A Brief Synopsis

- ④ The global trade experienced heightened uncertainty on the first week of Apr18 when Trump administration announced its trade tariff plan (under section 301 of the US Trade Act 1974) that will impact USD 50b worth of Chinese goods, targeting on the industrial technology, transportation and medical products. China retaliation caused the US President, Donald Trump to instruct the United States Trade Representative (USTR) to consider additional USD 100b worth of Chinese goods. Amidst the global trade tension, US's ISM manufacturing PMI continued to grow, registered at 59.3 in Mar18 albeit at slower pace vs 60.8 in Feb18, where a reading above 50 indicates the manufacturing economy is expanding.
- ④ China's Tariff Commission of the State Council has decided to propose an additional tariff on 14 categories of 106 products that include soybeans, automobiles and chemical products originating from US. The implementation date will be determined later, depending on the implementation date of the US's tariff on Chinese products which would be possibly be finalized by early June as the USTR anticipates about 60 days' worth of public comment and feedback. In the meantime, China's Caixin Manufacturing PMI, which focused on small and mid-sized manufacturing in China registered at 51.0 whilst the China's official manufacturing PMI recorded at 51.5. The overall growth in the manufacturing sector albeit at slower pace may be due to authorities lifted winter pollution restrictions and steel mills racked up its production as construction activities swing back into high gear.
- ④ In Europe, the IHS Markit Eurozone Manufacturing PMI continued to experience growth as it recorded reading of 56.6 in Mar18, albeit at a slightly slower pace compare to 58.6 in Feb18. Heavy snow coupled with a strong currency curb the growth in new orders possibly be the main culprit behind weak manufacturing expansion. Despite the slack, the manufacturing growth remained strong and broad-based with output expanding in every countries covered by the survey, and signs of the bloc's big four economies showed moderating growth. On top of that, European Central Bank (ECB) is considering not to extend its bond purchases program which ends in Sept18, if economies continue to develop as expected.
- ④ Most of the ASEAN bourses recorded negative returns in Mar18 with the exception of FTSE Bursa Malaysia KLCI (FBMKLCI), the sole gainer with a marginal gain of 0.4%. Indonesia's Jakarta Composite Index (JCI) took the lead, fell the most at 6.2% followed by Philippines' Stock Exchange (PCOMP), Thailand SET Index and Singapore's Straits Times Index (STI) which fell 5.9%, 2.9% and 2.6% respectively.
- ④ We maintain our neutral stance of the market amidst heightened concern on US trade protectionism policy and its impact to global trade.

Window to the World

US's job creation tumbled in Mar18 – US's monthly job creation tumbled in Mar18, to its lowest level in six months, with employers adding only 103,000 new positions. The figure was far lower than the streets' expectation of 175,000, and farfetched from Feb18's number 326,000 due to a slump in construction and retail sectors, which was affected by the winter storms across eastern US. Despite the hiccup, job creation continued to witness increases in manufacturing, healthcare and mining sector.

China's manufacturing sector growth momentum slowed down – China's Caixin manufacturing PMI expanded at slower pace in Mar18, came in at 51.0 vs Feb18's 51.6. The slowdown in manufacturing expansion was due to weaker growth in production and total new orders amid muted foreign demand, which may be attributed to the budding global trade uncertainties. On another note, the slowdown may also be affected by Chinese government cracking down companies with high debt levels and heavily polluting industries amidst transitioning to a services and consumption led economy.

Eurozone inflation rate accelerated in Mar18 – Eurozone's inflation rate rose 1.4% for the month, up from 1.1% in Feb18. Consumer price growth accelerated above market expectation in Italy and France, whilst Spain's uptick fell short of forecasts. This boosted the confidence among policymakers that inflation will pick up, close to their target of close to 2.0%. ECB is currently exploring the possibility to end its bond buying by Sept18, and raise interest rate by mid-19.

A Peep into Malaysia

FBMKLCI increased marginally amid global selloff – FBMKLCI ticked up 0.4% in Mar18 as despite broad market selloff in the developed markets i.e. US. Looking at trading participants, local retailers and foreign investors were the net sellers, selling RM7m and RM62m worth of shares respectively. Local institutions continued to become the net buyers, buying RM69m worth of shares.

Manufacturing PMI slipped into contraction in Mar18 – Malaysia's Nikkei manufacturing PMI fell into two consecutive months of contraction, coming in at 49.5, after recording 49.9 in Feb18. The slowdown was partly due to gradual rise in input price as well as decelerating global demand amid global trade uncertainty as trade tension sparked between the US and China.

Exports fell in Feb18 amid festive holidays – Malaysia exports fell 2% yoy in ringgit term, mainly due to distortions caused by the timing of Lunar New Year holidays that fell in February this year instead of January in 2017. Cumulatively, exports continued to register growth of 7.8% yoy for 2M18. Thus, the decline witnessed in Feb18 will likely be temporary and exports are poised to resume its growth trajectory albeit easing slightly due to higher base in 2017 and hiccup in global trade.

US-China trade rhetoric. President Trump? President Xi Jinping?

Global equity market experience heightened volatility and massive selloff yet again in the first week of April after the proposal of trade tariff for both US and China.

China's retaliation caused the US President, Donald Trump to instruct the United States Trade Representative (USTR) to consider trade tariff on additional USD 100b worth of Chinese goods. China's President, Xi Jinping on the other hand calmed the trade war fear when he pledged his government would "significantly lower" tariffs on imported vehicles this year as part of efforts to open China's economy to the world.

We are cautious on this development but we believe that the likelihood of a full-blown trade war is low. Volatility in equity markets will persist in the midst of trade-related rhetoric, at least until US and China decided on its implementation date for both trade tariff proposals as global trade uncertainties heightened since end Mar18. Malaysia is entwined in the Chinese supply chain, certain sectors such as machinery and electrical products may be affected. We remained our neutral stance on the market as we think that it is possible for a negotiation and agreement to be reached between the two countries as trade war would only end with a no-win situation.

- The Phillip Master Equity Growth fund took a tumble in Mar18, after recording a loss of 9.2%, mainly attributed to its exposure to JHM Consolidated, Vizione Holdings Berhad, Pentamaster Corp and Denko Industrial which nosedived 33.6%, 12.5%, 12.4% and 10.6% respectively. The strong selloff in technology counters was triggered as a knee-jerk reaction resulting from heightened US-China trade tensions. Thus, Malaysia companies that is known for outsource semiconductor assembly and testing (OSAT) companies, was not spared during the broad-based market sell-off, especially when the technology counter has recorded exceptional return in 2017.

Source: PCM

- The RHB-GS US Equity fund fell 4.8% for the month, in tandem with the Dow Jones Industrial Average which fell 3.7%. The Dow fell after a stronger US's wage inflation data raised concern that US Federal Reserve may raise its interest rate more rapidly than expected. Uncertainties intensified over the month of March after news broke out on the Trump administration's plan to impose 25% tariff on imported steel and 10% on imported aluminum sparked global trade uncertainty.
- Kenanga Growth fell 6.1% for the month, as it is not spared from the broad market selloff. The fund's exposure into small cap counters intensified its bad performances as its top holdings, Globetronics Technology and Gabungan AQRS plunged 34.5% and 15.8% during the month.
- Amidst market selloff, Eastspring Investments Equity Income, which mainly invested in large market cap companies with objective to provide stable income stream to investors was least affected. The fund inched down marginally at 0.2% for the month of March.
- In Mar18, our PMB Model portfolio fell 5.2%, underperforming the FBMKLCI index which recorded marginal gained of 0.4%. Meanwhile, our PMB Islamic portfolio fell 2.9% for the month.

- ⌚ Similarly, all equity funds that are under our tracking recommendation were not spared from the broad market selloff except for AmGlobal Property Equities which recorded a gain of 1.2% in March. The fund exposure to global REITs pays off during global market uncertainty as investors offload riskier assets and shifted into large-cap or dividend yield assets/names. The fund also provided income distribution since 2016.
- ⌚ Amidst global trade uncertainties Manulife India equity fund is not spared from the broad market selloff, but India market would seem to be the most defensive should the global trade tension escalated further, thanks to its net importer status. India's GDP was revised up to 6.6% from 6.5% for the year 2018 after it posted 7.2% growth for its 3Q17 GDP, surpassing market expectations. However, effective 1st Apr18, 10% tax will be charged following the reintroduction of long term capital gains tax (LCGT) which makes India market less attractive. To the relief of investors, gains up to 31st Jan18 will not be subject to the LCGT.
- ⌚ The Precious Metal Securities fund dropped 1.6% in Mar18, contrary to the gained of 0.4% recorded by gold commodity price as investors looking forward to add gold into their portfolio as a hedge against systematic risk amid global trade uncertainties. We reckoned the fund investment was affected by ringgit which strengthened by 1.4% in Mar18 against US Dollar.
- ⌚ For Fixed Income Category, we are of the view that risk-averse investors may want to take this chance to explore opportunity in quality bonds as developed nations are looking forward to increase its interest rate with US Fed has increased its Fed Fund Rate by 25bps and anticipating for another two rate hike in 2018.
