A Brief Synopsis

- ⌚ In US, the Fed committee maintained Federal Fund Rate (FFR) at 2.25-2.5% level in Mar19, on the back of low inflationary environment with overall inflation in Feb19 increased by 1.5% YoY, less than 1.6% YoY increase in Jan19, slightly lower than the Fed 2.0% target. The Fed also noted a slower growth in recent month as household spending and business fixed investment slowed. However, labour market remains strong.
- ⌚ The Caixin China Manufacturing PMI reached 50.8 in Mar19, up from 49.9 in Feb19 returning into the expansionary territory for the first time in four months. A reading above 50 indicates expansion. The index rose as stipulated by substantial improvement in factory production and new export orders while employment increased for the first time in over five years. The manufacturing sector recovery is said to be strengthened by more relaxed financing environment and government efforts to bail out the private sector in order to boost the country's cooling economy.
- ⌚ Japan Nikkei Flash Manufacturing PMI edged up to 48.9 in Mar19 from 48.5 in Feb19, although still in the deterioration mode. A reading below 50 indicates contraction. The struggle for Japanese manufacturers were apparent as demand from the global are still weak. Japan's exports fell for a third consecutive months due to decline in shipments of semiconductor production equipment and cars, slow growth in China amid US-China trade war. In Feb19, export continue to fall by 1.2% YoY after an 8.4% YoY drop in Jan19.
- ⌚ ASEAN bourses registered mixed return in Mar19. FTSE Bursa Malaysia KLCI Index (FBMKLCI) and Thailand's Stock Exchange Index (SET), fell by 3.8% and 0.9% MoM respectively. Philippines Stock Exchange Index (PCOMP) and Jakarta Composite Index (JCI) increased by 2.8% and 0.4% MoM respectively. On the other hand, Singapore Straits Times Index (STI) was flat MoM.
- ⌚ We expect some market volatility in Japan surrounding the 10 days Golden Week holiday. Thus, investors may make some adjustments to unwind their position ahead of the long holiday. China's Two Sessions meeting held on 5th March 2019 announced fiscal support which include cost cutting measures to help bolster the country's domestic-driven economy. Overall, we remain positive outlook on China.

Window to the World

④ Global: IMF Lowered Global Growth Forecast – Chief Economist of International Monetary Fund (IMF) Gita Gopinath spoke during a press conference in Washington D.C. on 9th April 2019 to brief their newly-released World Economic Outlook. The IMF lowered their global growth forecast once again to 3.3% compared to previous forecast of 3.5% in Jan19. The world economy faces downside risks brought by potential uncertainties in the ongoing global trade tensions, as well as other country- and sector-specific factors.

⑤ US: US Proposes Tariff on EU – The US Trade representative proposed a list of EU products worth USD 11 billion in response to EU subsidies to support Airbus. The list includes goods ranging from jetliners and passenger helicopters to cheese, wine and motorcycles. The World Trade Organization claims that EU's subsidies cause adverse effects to the US and was deemed as illegal back in May 2018.

⑥ UK-Euro: Another Delay for Brexit - British Prime Minister Theresa May requested an extension of the Brexit deadline to 30th June 2019 which was initially rejected by the EU. However, as the date closes in to the original 12th April 2019 deadline, an emergency Brexit summit was held in Brussels and it resulted in a “flexible” extension until 31st October 2019 of which UK is allowed to leave earlier if they could finally get a cross-party deal that allow Brexit to pass. This gives May a little bit of breathing space but a keynote date to consider would be on 30th June 2019 as May claimed back in March that she will not delay the Brexit process any further than that.

A Peep into Malaysia

⑦ FBMKLCI declined by 3.8% MoM in Mar19 to close at 1,644 – Looking at the trading participants for the month, both local retailers and local institutions were net buyers, buying RM191mil and RM1,367mil worth of shares respectively. Foreign Investors on the other hand, was the net seller, selling RM1,557mil worth of shares. On year-to-date (YTD) basis, local retailers and local institutions also were net buyers, buying RM461mil and RM886mil worth of shares respectively. Meanwhile, foreign investors are the net seller, selling at RM1,347 million.

⑨ Bank Negara 2018 Annual Report – In the Bank Negara annual report 2018, the central bank expects Malaysia real GDP to grow 4.3-4.8% in 2019, in line with the 4.7% registered in 2018. The central bank expects domestic consumption to remain as the main growth driver, underpinned by continued expansion in private sector activity. Public sector expenditure, however, is expected to drag down growth due to reprioritization of government spending.

⑤ Progress on US-China Trade while emerging markets brace for elections

Markets across the board continued its upward trend in Mar19 with the exception of FBMKLCI that fell 3.8% MoM. China Shanghai Composite Index and India Sensex lead the board with gains of 7.8% and 8.4% respectively while the Dow Jones Industrial Average and the Nikkei 225 inched up 1.3% and 0.6% respectively. Progress were made on the US-China trade war with US trade representative Robert Lighthizer and Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin visiting China for trade talks. Discussions are expected to continue throughout April with high expectations for US-China to finally close a deal. We will continue to monitor this development.

We expect market volatility in Japan surrounding the 10 days Golden Week holiday. Thus, investors may make some adjustments to unwind their position in Japan fund. Meanwhile, Thailand recently had their first elections since the military coup in 2014 with the Pheu Thai Party winning the most seats. The integrity of the elections however, were questioned when voter turnout suddenly increased from 66% to 75% when 100% of the votes were counted compared to when only 94% of the votes were counted. On top of that, the unofficial announcement of the results was delayed for a day without explanation given. Along with Thailand, other emerging countries such as Indonesia, India, and Philippines will also have their respective elections. Due to possible political instability, this may spark concerns among investors in the emerging market space.

On the local front, signals of a possible Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) cut by 25 basis points in April arises which raises concerns over potential earnings for banks. Previously on 5th March, Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) maintained their OPR of 3.25% while citing headline inflation to be “broadly in line” with 2019. However, this is a deviation from their previous inflation expectation which were said to “average moderately higher” back in Jan19. On the energy sector, due to ongoing political uncertainties in OPEC nations such as Venezuela, Iran and Libya, oil prices are expected to rise. This is also on the backs of plans for further production cuts by US and Saudi Arabia. This fares well for Malaysia given an increased reliance on oil revenues post GE-14.

The momentum from the first two months of the year in major markets started tapering off with the exception of the Shanghai Composite Index which gained 5.1% in Mar19. The Dow Jones Industrial Average inched up by 0.05% while Japan's Nikkei decreased by 0.8%. The strong performance of the Shanghai Composite Index is likely to be driven by growing optimism in trade war negotiations.

In Malaysia, all equity funds recorded negative returns except for Kenanga Malaysian Inc Fund which inched up 0.5%. All funds did relatively well compared to the FBMKLCI which fell 3.8% in Mar19. Progress in the US-China trade talk bodes well with the Kenanga Malaysian Inc Fund which currently invests in Malaysian companies but is expanding beyond Malaysian shore.

Manulife India Equity Fund was the top performer of the month with a gain of 8.3% in Mar19. The fund did well in tandem with the market rally for India when S&P BSE Sensex gained 8.4%. This is on the back of stronger expectations of an interest rate cut in Apr19 and improved market sentiment for Narendra Modi's re-election in the upcoming general election. The election will be done in 7 stages starting on 11th April and ends on 19th May. The counting of the votes will be conducted on 23rd May, and on the same day the results will be declared.

Dana Makmur Pheim Fund also fared well in Mar19 with a gain of 2.6%. The fund's gains were mainly attributed to its top holdings such Hibiscus Petroleum and Cahya Mata Sarawak which gained 6.8% and 8.8% respectively.

Top performer within the fixed income space was Ambond which comfortably gained 1.5% in Mar19. US Fed surprised market with a clear dovish shift in Jan19. ASEAN countries such as Malaysia, Philippines, and Indonesia left its interest rate unchanged at 3.25%, 4.75%, and 6.0% respectively.
