A Brief Synopsis

- ⌚ The Hong Kong Human Rights and Democracy Act of 2019, signed into law by President Trump, is touted by Congress as a way to deter Beijing's influence and interference in Hong Kong's internal affairs. This may imply that the highly anticipated phase 1 trade negotiation will not go as smoothly as market expectations. In addition, on 3rd November, Donald Trump also announced that he is willing to wait for another year before striking a trade agreement with China. The signing of phase 1 trade agreement may roll into 2020 while the tariff scheduled on 15th December may be implemented if things don't go as planned.
- ⌚ Germany's consumer sentiment rose unexpectedly where the improved mood among buyers is expected to give a boost to household spending and support the export-driven Germany economy, which has come under pressure from U.S.-China trade tensions and Brexit uncertainty. Income expectations also improved in line with a strong labor market, rising wages, and moderate inflation, according to the institute, thanks to an unexpected drop in Germany unemployment, where the jobless rate held at 5% near a record low. On top of that, Germany narrowly avoided technical recession in 3Q19 with GDP growth of 0.1%.
- ⌚ We expect Tokyo 2020 Olympics will be marked in history where AI-based applications will be deployed on a large scale, ranging from automated aggression detection, autonomous cars, pseudo 3D live broadcasting, humanoids and others. This may act as an incentive for technology sector to continue its growth momentum, earmarked the highly anticipated 5G growth cycle. However, the country's weak economic post consumption tax hike will continue to put BOJ on their toes although QQE impact is diminishing. The government may introduce fiscal stimulus package to alleviate the escalating economy risks.
- ⌚ All ASEAN bourses registered negative returns in November. Jakarta Composite Index (JCI), Philippine's Stock Exchange Index (PCOMP), FTSE Bursa Malaysia KLCI Index (FBMKLCI), Singapore's Straits Times Index (STI) and Thailand's Stock Exchange Index (SET) decreased by 3.5%, 3.0%, 2.3%, 1.1% and 0.7% MoM respectively.
- ⌚ With US House of Representatives announced an impeachment inquiry on 24th September 2019, it is likely that a vote on articles of impeachment will be passed before end-December. The trial in the Senate is expected to follow in January. We believe that the probability of Trump being impeached is very low because conviction in the Senate, with a two-thirds threshold, requires a minimum of 20 Republican votes. We do not anticipate defections from Republicans unless new evidence emerges or a significant shift in public opinion.

Huawei also looking to relocate some mobile network equipment outside China. In the first 9 months of the year, Huawei reported revenue increased by 24% despite the trade blacklist. The robust growth was mainly driven by soaring smartphone sales in China.
- Indonesia: Central bank cuts bank reserve requirements– In a cautious easing move, the bank's reserve requirement ratio (RRR) was cut by 50 bps since June19 cut. The RRR cut would add an additional IDR 24.1tril in liquidity for commercial banks and IDR 1.9tril for Shariah lenders. The move is said to promote credit expansion while maintaining the policy rate unchanged reflecting the focus on maintaining rupiah stability. The central bank expects Indonesia's economy to grow 5.1% for this year.

⑤ Trump impeachment inquiry hearing continues, while Malaysia's politics thicken.

With US House of Representatives announced an impeachment inquiry on 24th September 2019, it is likely that a vote on articles of impeachment will be passed before end-December. The trial in the Senate is expected to follow in January. We believe that the probability of Trump being impeached is very low because conviction in the Senate, with a two-thirds threshold, requires a minimum of 20 Republican votes. We do not anticipate defections from Republicans unless new evidence emerges or a significant shift in public opinion.

During the trial in Senate, public comments from Senators including Democratic presidential candidates (Sanders, Warren, Harris, Booker, Klobuchar and Bennet) may be limited given their role as jurors. This may provide an opportunity for Trump to use the impeachment inquiry as a talking point on the campaign trail as evidence that Democrats are irrationally biased against him and his agenda.

On top of the impeachment inquiry, President Donald Trump also announced that he is willing to wait for another year before striking a trade agreement with China. The signing of phase 1 trade agreement may roll into 2020 while the tariff scheduled on 15th December may be implemented if things don't go as planned.

As for Malaysia, Bank Negara Malaysia announced a 50bp reduction in the Statutory Reserve Requirement (SRR) ratio from 3.50% to 3.00% effective 16Nov, marking the first cut since Jan16. The decision was driven by the need to address structurally weaker liquidity in the banking system as a result of steady portfolio outflows since 2018. The move will inject RM7.4bn of liquidity into banking system. With weaker imports growth relative to exports, Malaysia's trade balance grew strongly in Oct19, posting a surplus of MYR17.3bn – its largest trade surplus on record. On the political front, following the heavy defeat for Pakatan Harapan ("PH") in the Tanjung Piai by-election, Prime Minister Tun Dr Mahathir said there is a possibility to reshuffle Cabinet if the PH coalition agrees. Although there is an additional liquidity in the market but due to political uncertainty, we prefer to adopt wait-and-see approach to assess the political situation in Malaysia.

- ⌚ All the equity funds under the Malaysian market were in negative territory in Nov19, except for Phillip Master Equity Growth which topped the list with 0.2% growth. Overall, the Malaysian market recorded lacklustre performance as FBMKLCI fell by 2.3% with most sectors recorded negative returns with the exception of plantation, property and energy industry which gained 4.9%, 3.6% and 0.9% respectively.
- ⌚ The funds with US exposure performed well in which Manulife Investment US Equity fund came out as the top performer for the month, rose 4.5%. Although the uncertainty surrounding the trade policy affected consumer sentiment, the market continue to grow by 3.7% supported by strong retail market ahead of holiday season.
- ⌚ RHB entrepreneur remains as the top performer within the Asia region with 1.7% growth. The fund has the highest exposure in Japan which is in line with the Japan market rallied 1.6% on the back of weaker Yen which might enhance Japan's export sector and thus helping the Bank of Japan's pursuit of higher inflation.
- ⌚ On the other hand, TA South East Asia underperformed which fell 2.6% in November which is in line with all the major ASEAN bourses that recorded negative returns for the period. Most of the trade-reliant economies are adversely impacted by the uncertainty surrounding the 'Phase 1' deal.
- ⌚ For the month of Nov19, the fixed income space was flat where all the bond funds that we tracked recorded between 0.2% to 0.3% growth. Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) announced a reduction in the statutory reserve requirement (SRR) from 3.5% to 3% after BNM decided to maintain overnight policy ratio (OPR) at 3%. The lower SRR threshold is expected to free up about RM7.4bil in cash across the Malaysian banking. This move is seen as preemptive measure to inject liquidity into the market.
