Global Highlights

US: A Faster Taper while Dotplot Points to 3 Rate Hikes in 2022

In the final FOMC decision of 2021 (15 Dec), the US Fed kept its policy rates unchanged, and accelerated its asset purchase program (QE) tapering which began earlier in Nov 21. The Dec Dotplot chart which showed FOMC policymakers pivoting to a faster pace of normalisation as they are now gravitating towards the view of the Fed policy rate at 0.9% by end of 2022 (which implies three 25bps rate hikes in 2022).

EU: ECB Ends Pandemic Stimulus

The Governing Council expects to conduct net asset purchases under the Pandemic Emergency Purchase Programme (PEPP) at a lower pace in 1Q22 than in 4Q21, and it will discontinue net asset purchases under the PEPP at the end of Mar 22. Previously, the guidance around its PEPP was to conduct net purchases until "at least the end of March 2022". It also extended the PEPP reinvestment horizon "until at least the end of 2024" compared to prior guidance "until at least the end of 2023".

China: Improvement in Dec Manufacturing PMI from Easing Raw Material Supply Constraints

China's official manufacturing and non-manufacturing Purchasing Manager's Indexes (PMIs) improved and were both above consensus expectation in Dec 21. Improvement in the manufacturing outlook was also seen in the private sector Caixin manufacturing PMI. Manufacturing outlook improved mainly due to easing raw material supply constraints but production and external demand weakened in Dec 21. Non-manufacturing PMI rose in Dec 21 after dipping in the two preceding months with services recovery offsetting seasonal weakness in construction. Domestic demand has remained fairly resilient despite outbreaks of Covid-19 in some cities.

Malaysia Highlights

Investment Approvals Recovered to RM177.8b in Jan – Sep 21

Total investment approvals rose 51.5% y-o-y to RM177.8b in Jan-Sep 2021 (vs. RM117.4b in Jan-Sep 20). The manufacturing sector accounted for the largest share of total investments which amounted to RM103.9b (58.4% share), followed by the services sector with RM57.8b (32.5%) and the primary sector with RM16.1b (9.1%). Foreign direct investment (FDI) approvals accounted for nearly 60% of overall approved investments (or at RM106.1b) with major investments from Singapore, China, Austria, Japan, and the Netherlands. FDI led the approved investments in manufacturing while domestic investments drove services and primary sectors. The states that attracted the most approved investments in all three sectors were Kedah, Sarawak, W.P. Kuala Lumpur, Selangor and Pahang.

Export Growth Rose to 6-Month High of 32.4%

Exports expanded at a stronger pace of 32.4% y-o-y in Nov 21 (Oct: 25.5%) which was higher than Bloomberg consensus (30%). Imports gained 38% y-o-y (Oct: 27.9%). Higher imports over exports led to narrower trade surplus of RM18.9b (Oct: RM26.3b). Overall exports in Nov 21 were lifted by robust shipments of electrical and electronic (E&E) products (17.4% y-o-y), petroleum products (111.6%), palm oil and palm-oil based agriculture products (97.4%), and LNG (99.5%). Exports to key markets included ASEAN, China, USA, EU and Japan, which recorded double-digit growth.

Market Performance

- The CSI 300 Index remained volatile in Dec as investors evaluate economic growth risks ranging from the Omicron outbreaks, a more hawkish Fed and the ongoing regulatory tightening. Amid these risks, the index moderated its previous loss, rising 2.2% m-o-m, as signs of policy easing have improved sentiments.
- The Dow Jones Index pushed to new closing and finished in Dec with an increase of 5.4% m-o-m. Although Covid-19 continued to dominate the news, the vaccines (and now boosters) enabled Americans to spend more outside. A wave of consumer demand fuelled by the reopening of economies pumped up corporate profits more than expected in 2021, which helped keep investors in a buying mood. Wall Street also got a boost from the Fed, which kept its key short-term interest rate near zero all year. Hence, that helped keep borrowing costs for companies low and stock valuation high.

The Euro Stoxx 50 PR Index (+5.84% m-o-m) had a bullish final month of the year. Consumer sentiment figures for Germany and the Eurozone failed weigh on the index earlier on as US economic data provided support. In spite of Covid-19 and the new Omicron strain, positive news updates from AstraZeneca and Novavax were market positive. Both firms spoke their respective vaccines being effective against the new strain. Early evidence that the new strain was a milder form was also market positive.

The Nikkei 225 Index rebounded in Dec, ensuring the index rose on an annual basis for a third straight year. Gain for the market was supported by receding alarm over the new Omicron variant of Covid-19. Share prices had declined mid-month on concerns about monetary tightening in the West but rose along with US equities after that.

The FBMKLCI Index rose 3.5% m-o-m in to close at 1,567.53 points. The gain was due to window-dressing activities as well as positive reaction to the government's decision on 30 Dec to extend the tax exemptions on foreign source income for individuals and foreign source dividend income for corporates for another five years (from 1 Jan 22 till 31 Dec 26). The MOF also proposed to reinstate a higher cap on stamp duty limit of RM1,000 effective 1 Jan 22 (vs. previous proposal to abolish the duty limit). However, the gain was partially offset by concerns over the potential impact of floodings in Malaysia on corporate earnings and the Omicron virus impact on the border reopening plans.

Currency

- USDCNY: CNY continued to strengthen against the USD in Dec, ending the year as Asia's top performing currency. The yuan was propelled by China's strong trade surplus, recording exports growth of 22.0% in November, and robust portfolio inflows following the inclusion of Chinese government debt in the FTSE World Government Bond Index.
- USDJPY: JPY depreciated considerably against the USD in Dec as Omicron risk-aversion began to subside. Furthermore, soaring US inflation and the Fed increasing the pace of tapering has raised expectations of an earlier fed funds rate hike, adding pressure on to the yen.
- USDMYR: MYR ended the year on a weaker note as compared to 2020, but on a monthly basis, the local note strengthened by almost 0.9% against the USD, mainly due to the current global risk-on sentiment. The ringgit also benefited from an 11.0% m-o-m rise in Brent crude oil price and Malaysia's better-than-expected macroeconomic figures.

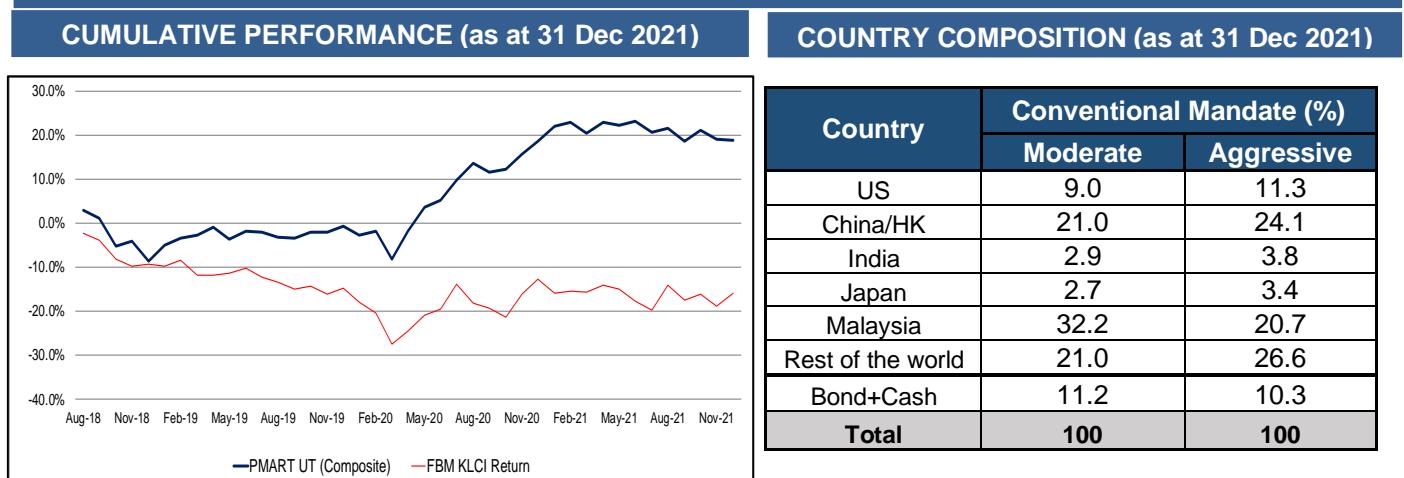

Stock Market Indices Performance

Market Outlook

- Uncertainties and volatility are likely to remain to be dragged by new waves caused by the Omicron virus, foreign fund outflows due to Fed taper, reversals of fiscal stimulus, tighter monetary policy and China's economic transition.
- Investors will keep an eye on any newsflows on talks of potential Malaysia's Cabinet reshuffling and political risks.
- Focus will be on the US Federal Open Market Committee meeting for the new year on 25-26 Jan.

Review

- Performance Overview – Our portfolio fell -0.3%, underperforming the FBMKLCI's positive return of 3.5%. Meanwhile, most funds within our portfolio recorded positive returns for the month of December 2021.
- Top Performer – Principal Global Titans MYR – Outperformance was driven by the US and Europe markets that rebounded on strong corporate earnings and solid economic growth momentum that had been supported by robust consumption demand.
- Worst Performer – Principal Greater China Equity MYR – Underperformance was dragged down by weak performance of China and Hong Kong stocks on fears that the new variant, Omicron, could derail the nascent economic recovery.
- There is no change to both moderate and aggressive model portfolios in December for PMART-UT Conventional. We will continue to monitor the performance of the funds and rebalance the portfolio, when necessary, in line with the market condition.
