Encl.: Redemption Gate: How It Works and Frequently Asked Questions

Redemption Gate: How It Works

Applies to AmanahRaya Unit Trust Fund (ARUTF), AmanahRaya Syariah Trust Fund (ARSTF), Amanah Islamic Equity Fund (ARIEF), and AmanaRaya Syariah Income (ARSIF).

Key facts at a glance

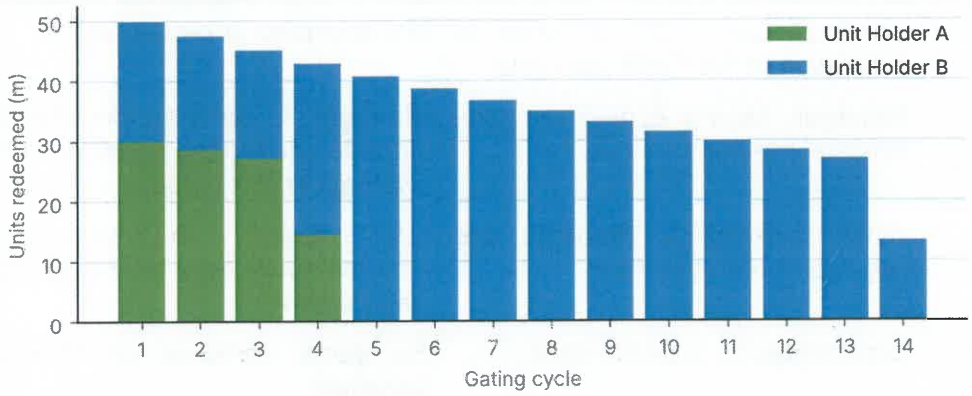

Feature	What it means
5% cap	Maximum number of units that may be redeemed per gating cycle, calculated based on the total number of units in circulation a business day.
Pro rata	The cap is shared pro rata based on the size of each unit holder's total investment, not the size of the request
2 Business Days	Unit holders will be notified within 2 business days following the day when the redemption request is received if their request is not processed in full
7 Business Days	Proceeds are paid within 7 Business Days of the disposal of underlying investments, for each deferred period

The 4 steps in each gating cycle

1. Set the cap. 5% × units in circulation. The cap shrinks as units are redeemed (e.g. 1 billion units → 50 million cap; then 950 million → 47.5 million).
2. Allocate pro rata. Your share of the cap = your unit holding ÷ total units in circulation on that business day.
3. Reallocate unused share. No one redeems more than requested; any unused share goes pro rata to others still waiting.
4. Carry forward the balance. Unredeemed units move to the next gating cycle and are priced at that gating cycle's net asset value per unit.

Illustration

Assumptions: 1,000,000,000 units in circulation; Unit Holder A holds 600 million units and redeems 100 million units; Unit Holder B holds 400 million units and redeems all 400 million units; no new subscriptions.

Result: Unit Holder A will fully redeem its 100 million units in 4 cycles (keeping 500m units invested); Unit Holder B will fully redeem its 400 million units in 14 cycles. In cycle 4, unused share of the cap of unit holder A is reallocated to unit holder B.

Cycle	Units in circulation	Cap (5%)	Redeemed – A	Redeemed – B	Total redeemed

What it means for you

- Each redemption gating cycle is priced at the net asset value per unit on the day its units are cancelled, which may differ materially from the net asset value on your original request date.
- You remain fully exposed to the Fund's market risk while waiting; deferred proceeds generally earn no profit or additional compensation.
- No new redemption requests are accepted until your outstanding units are fully redeemed.
- The redemption gate may be imposed in subsequent periods for an extended duration.

Redemption gate vs. suspension

	Redemption gate	Suspension
Redemptions	Continue, up to 5% of units in circulation of the Fund per cycle	Not accepted or processed
Who decides	Manager, having considered Unit Holders' interests	Manager, in consultation with the Trustee and having considered the interests of unit holders
When	When redemption requests are large relative to the Fund	Last resort, in exceptional circumstances (e.g. NAV cannot be determined)
Other dealings	Not affected by the gate itself	No sales, switches or transfers accepted

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What is the redemption gate?

A limit the Manager may, having considered the interests of the unit holders, impose on any business day whereby no more than 5% of the Fund's units in circulation on a business day may be redeemed in one gating cycle. It protects remaining Unit Holders when redemptions are unusually large.

2. Which funds does it apply to?

AmanahRaya Unit Trust Fund (ARUTF), AmanahRaya Syariah Trust Fund (ARSTF), Amanah Islamic Equity Fund (ARIEF) and AmanahRaya Syariah Income Fund (ARSIF).

3. When can the gate be imposed?

At the Manager's discretion, having considered the interests of Unit Holders. The Manager, in consultation with the Trustee, may also defer requests that would adversely affect existing Unit Holders or exceed the limit.

4. How is the 5% cap calculated?

On units in circulation that business day. As units are redeemed, the base shrinks, so the cap does too: Please refer to the illustration above. 5% of 1 billion = 50 million units in cycle 1, then 5% of 950 million = 47.5 million in cycle 2 (assuming no new subscriptions).

5. How is my share of the cap worked out?

Pro rata to your total unit holding, not the size of your request: your share = your units ÷ total units in circulation. In the illustration, unit holder A (60% of the Fund) gets 60% of the cap even though unit holder A asked to redeem less.

6. What if my share is more than I asked for?

You will never redeem more than you requested. The unused portion is reallocated pro rata to the other unit holders, shown as "extra from unused cap" (cycle 4 in the illustration).

7. What happens to the units not redeemed?

They are carried forward automatically to the next gating cycle and processed at that cycle's net asset value per unit, until your request is fully met.

8. What price will I receive?

Proceeds are calculated on a staggered basis: each cycle is valued at the net asset value per unit on the day those units are cancelled. This may differ materially, up or down, from the net asset value per unit on your original request date.

9. When will I be paid?

Within 7 business days from the date the Fund's underlying investments are disposed of, for each deferred period. Without imposition of redemption gate, payment is within 7 business days of the request being received and processed.

10. Will I be told if my request is gated?

Yes. You will be notified within 2 business days of the request being received, then be informed of the timeline for the next gating cycle and the pro-rated number of units to be redeemed.

11. Can I submit another redemption request?

No, if a redemption gate is imposed, the Manager will not accept any additional redemption requests until all the remaining units in your initial redemption request have been fully redeemed.

12. Do I earn anything while I wait?

Deferred proceeds generally earn no profit or extra compensation. Your units stay invested, so you remain fully exposed to the Fund's gains and losses until they are redeemed.

13. How long could a gate last?

It depends on the size of requests. In the illustration above, unit holder A was paid in 4 cycles and unit holder B was paid in 14 cycles. The gate may also be re-imposed in later periods for an extended duration.

14. How is a gate different from a suspension?

Under a gate, redemptions still happen, up to 5% of units in circulation of the Fund per cycle. A suspension is a last resort in exceptional circumstances after consulting the Trustee, (e.g., where net asset value of the Fund cannot be calculated); during a suspension, no sales, redemptions, switches or transfers are accepted.
